

BEST-IN-CLASS CERIUM & FELTS

STOCKED & READY TO SHIP

Axion Glass Polish

Axion is a high production grade white cerium oxide based polishing compound. It features consistent particle hardness and size as well as a highly effective chemical supporting package. Axion is formulated to effectively polish at lower concentrations and achieve target baumé levels with lower volume. It disperses immediately with typical cerium tank agitation. It stays in suspension during use and settles slowly and softly when idle, and will totally re-suspend within minutes of agitation.

NOVA Felt Wheel

NOVA Felt is the latest development in synthetic polishing wheel technology. The yellow color is not the only thing unique about NOVA Felt. The base construction of this wheel is a polyester fiber that is impregnated utilizing state-of-the-art polymer technology. The uniquely engineered fiber structure sets this wheel apart from all other competitive products. The NOVA Felt fiber architecture yields an open pore structure that will readily accept a cerium charge but resist "loading" and glazing. This allows NOVA Felt to polish more like natural wool but with all the positive characteristics of a synthetic material.
